Testimonial:

"We recently had a wake at The Wellbeing Farm following my Grandma's funeral. From the moment I enquired, up until the wake, we were treated with kindness and respect. Nothing was too much to ask even when dates and numbers changed a few times. We had decided on an afternoon tea as my Grandma loved going out for tea and cakes, and it seemed fitting to remember her this way. We were encouraged to choose 'special' things to add to the afternoon tea and nothing seemed too much trouble. Even children-sized afternoon teas were available.

On the day, the ambience set at Wellbeing was just right, sombre but not too sad. The staff were incredibly attentive, but not intrusive. The room looked lovely and the table settings were so pretty. The food was beautiful both in appearance and taste.

We were made aware from the outset that we were not going to be rushed, as we had the room for the afternoon. This meant that we could relax and catch up with family, some of whom we hadn't seen for quite some time. Our children were kept amused looking at the animals and running around 'letting off steam'!

I wouldn't hesitate to recommend Wellbeing Farm as a venue for a wake".
